EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- There are two greyhound tracks in Iowa; Dubuque Greyhound Park in Dubuque and Bluffs Run in Council Bluffs
- From January 2011 through July 2012 there were 175 reported injuries sustained by greyhounds racing at the two Iowa tracks (106 at Bluffs Run and 69 at Dubuque)¹
- The most commonly reported injury was a broken leg.² Other common injuries were sprains, tears, and other broken bones³
- Twenty-four greyhounds were euthanized⁴
- A trainer requested that an injured greyhound be euthanized because of his gender. In addition, there were two reported cases where trainers declined pain medication from the state veterinarian for greyhounds injured while racing
- Several greyhounds suffered head injuries during races at the two Iowa dog tracks

- A one-and-a-half-year-old white and red brindle greyhound named Killer Fast was euthanized after she hit the rail, became unconscious, and suffered internal bleeding in a race at Bluffs Run on May 27, 2011.¹¹

Trainers Declined Pain Medications for Injured Greyhounds and Requested Euthanasia Based on a Greyhound's Gender

On April 21, 2012 during a race at Dubuque Greyhound Park, a two-year-old red greyhound named Pat C Rasputin broke his right leg.¹² During the exam by the State Veterinarian the dog's trainer, Lee Haynes, requested that Pat C Rasputin be euthanized "since it was a male dog."¹³ The vet denied this request as it was not medically necessary and instead wrapped the broken limb and gave the greyhound a dose of pain medication. However, the trainer declined any additional pain medication for the greyhound.¹⁴ According to databases maintained by greyhound breeders, Pat C Rasputin has not raced since April 2012.¹⁵

In another case at Dubuque Greyhound Park a one-and-a-half-year-old red brindle greyhound named Hilco Hiball suffered a suspected muscle injury during a race on June 16, 2012.¹⁶ Hilco Hiball had to be carried off the track and during the veterinary exam the dog's trainer, Tammy Ertl, declined pain medication for the greyhound.¹⁷

Greyhounds Suffered Head Injuries

On June 9, 2011 a two-year-old red greyhound named Bartsmagicmerlin suffered a head and eye injury after being hit by another dog, pushed up against the rail and falling during a race at Dubuque Greyhound Park.¹⁸ Specifically, the injury report says "the left side of his head had been hit hard with swelling and injury to the eye and orbit. No pupillary light reflex was noted on exam, and blindness is suspected."¹⁹

A three-and-a-half-year-old brindle greyhound named RJ's Bucky fractured his skull when he "ran [his] head into the rail trying to get to the lure" during a race at Bluffs Run on July 26, 2012.²⁰
